

Landmarks OF NANTUCKET!

Ella Blasi

When I am taking a picture, I think about the lighting of my picture, try to get different angles of the object, and capture how I feel about the object in the picture. I have always lived on Nantucket, and like taking pictures of nature. There are many landmarks on Nantucket that I would not want to have disappear.

BIG OLD TREE

This is a picture of the big tree next to the high school; it is very old and really tall. I took this picture from a distance so it shows how tall the tree is compared to the houses. If this tree were to disappear, it would be a shame because it has lived through so many generations on Nantucket.

THE LITTLE FISHING BOAT BY THE DOCKS

This picture is of the harbor with two fishing boats tied at the dock, one up close and one in the distance. I would not want this landmark to disappear because, when I think of Nantucket, I think of the harbors and the whalers and fisherman who used it for their living, which made Nantucket famous.

NANTUCKET RUNWAY

This photo is of the docks on a rainy day and there is an old fishing boat in the distance. The docks and the fishing boat make me think about what it was like to be a whaler, and the hard life they lived out at sea. If this landmark disappeared, it would be hard to understand what being a whaler was like.

BOOKS AND TREES

This photo is of the children's library in town and part of the garden. When I was little, I played in the garden and checked out books all the time. If this were lost, an important part of my past on Nantucket would be gone.
