

Landmarks OF NANTUCKET!

Grace MacLellan

My name is Grace MacLellan and I was born on Nantucket. I am an active fourteen-year-old, and am currently in the eighth grade at Cyrus Peirce Middle School. The hobbies I enjoy are photography, playing the cello, and ballet. I am also an avid soccer player.

CECELIA

An old, rundown gravestone almost completely entwined in grass. The simple, black script on the white stone stands out brightly from the faint green wisps of grass. Such a plain picture makes the world seem so easy and beautiful at the same time.

COBBLESTONES IN A POOL OF WATER

These cobblestones were set in place before anyone can remember. The smooth stones clumped together to make a road. The water on the stones symbolizes so much beauty and purity ..

UNUSUAL VIEW

This picture shows that any way you look at the Old Mill you can see the magnificence it presents. Taking pictures of the same angle can be very boring, but when you put it at a different perspective, it somehow changes the way you think of the Old Mill.

EARLY MORN

Waking up early in the morning to capture this picture was one of the most beautiful moments. The bright sun peeking behind the Old Mill makes the sun seem bright and overpowering. But then you see the covering Old Mill looking mighty against the light.
