

LANDMARKS OF NANTUCKET!

Amanda SANDOVAL

I go to Cyrus Peirce Middle School. I am in seventh grade. I am a Nantucket native; I have lived on Nantucket all my life. I love all the features the island has to offer me. I like to play field hockey and hang out with my friends. I have learned many things while doing this project. I have learned that taking pictures at different angles can give it a different perspective.

WAUWINET

The Wauwinet used to be a place where fishermen could bring their families and have a barbecue lunch. Now it is a four-star dining restaurant. I would be sad if this landmark were to disappear because I have so many good memories there.

SCALLOP SHELLS

This picture is of Nantucket bay scallop shells. I do not like to eat them, but I like to catch them. I would miss this landmark because they are unique. There is no other place in the world where you can get Nantucket Bay scallops except in Nantucket Bay.

PACIFIC NATIONAL BANK

This is the Pacific National Bank at the top of Main Street. This bank is really old. I would miss this landmark because it is where the big giant talking Christmas tree is placed every year. I'm sure everyone else would miss it too.

ATHENEUM

The Nantucket Athenaeum has been around for a long time. They have a section of books for kids and a section for adults. I would miss this because I used to come here every week in preschool and choose a book. If the Athenaeum was to disappear, a part of my childhood would be gone as well.
